FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Glenview Ben & Jerry's Free Cone Day to 'Scoop' Up Donations for SuperSibs!

March 13, 2009 (Rolling Meadows, IL) – Ben & Jerry's Scoop Shop in Glenview is making ice cream lovers an offer they can't refuse - free ice cream, free music, and the opportunity to support the siblings of children with cancer across the country. On April 21st, 2009, from noon to 8:00 p.m. ice cream lovers can enjoy a free cup or cone of their favorite flavor all day long. And as if getting free ice cream wasn't cool enough, this year the Glenview Ben & Jerry's is adding a new twist to Free Cone Day that includes live music from The Sheryl and Tom Duet.

It is a tradition for Ben & Jerry's shops to support local non-profit organizations through Free Cone Day. The Glenview Shop, located at 1860 Tower Drive in The Glen Town Center in Glenview, has selected SuperSibs! for the fourth year in a row. Since there is no charge for the ice cream, patrons are encouraged to donate to SuperSibs!. SuperSibs! employees will be on site providing information about the national non profit organization and its programs, and accepting donations.

"It is a lot of fun and it helps the kids out," said Glenview Ben & Jerry's owners Nancy and Vito Grimaldi. "All of the employees are donating their time to this worthy fundraising event, and we feel privileged that we can help SuperSibs! out."
